MONDAY NIGHT BITES

Our residential dining rooms went head-to-head for this season's first Monday Night Bites showdown on Oct. 18. O'Hill, representing the Buffalo Bills, dished out a buffalo chicken and waffles sandwich with crinkle-cut fries while Fresh Food Company took a regional approach and served up apple cinnamon stack cake. Students voted for their favorite option on Instagram the following day. Next week's matchup: the New Orleans Saints vs. the Seattle Seahawks!

O'Hill won
this week with 84% of the vote!

The second Cville Market of the semester was held on Wednesday, Oct. 20 in the Amphitheatre. All of our local vendors from the Sept. 8 were in attendance with two new additions: Middle Eastern cuisine from Khadija's Kitchen and produce from Morven Kitchen Garden, an educational student garden located right off Grounds. The market was an overwhelming success with UVA students and faculty proving once again that they LOVE local!

NOTABLE FEEDBACK

EMPLOYEES

"Jessica is the best, and we get to watch the away soccer game during dinner."

"The two guys are amazing cooks. Chicken [at JPJ] is the best on campus. Keep it up!"

"The dessert lady [at O'Hill] is so nice and kind."

FOOD

"I really enjoyed the Italian bean dish at the Vegan station! So tasty!"

"I come to O'Hill for Tito's omelets!"

"Love the staff and tonight we had hummus night. Amazing. Thanks for adding soups nightly since it got cold."
